Will Huerta Mexico or Diaz Madero?

Good afternoon, who do you think will be President of Mexico tomorrow?

Its alright to feather your own nest, if you dont rob the other birds.

It will help you as you travel life's highway, if you will pay your debts as well as your compliments.

Some men are born owning cellarettas, but the suffragette is usually thrust upon him.

Why cant all the Republican office holders be magnanimous and give up their fat jobs during Lent, so that the Democrats can come out in their Easter bonnets in which the bees have been buzzing so long.

A few robins had made their appearance in our midst and we felt sure Spring was near at hand, but Monday they were mingling with the Court Day crowd trying to find out the cheapest place to buy chest protectors and over-shoes.

The Hubble Telephone Co. is meeting with much encouragement. The promoters are determined to avail themselves of the law which compels telephone companies to grant other lines connections if they are forced to do so. They have a nice exchange list built up in their section and will later take up other sections.

The Pittsburg Post says that American citizens have fully $600,000,000 invested in Mexico and that fully two thirds of this wealth has been wiped out during the revolt. The majority of American investments are said to be in railroads, securities or in lands and while the railroad securities may be impaired, the land is still there and will be until the end of time.

One of the most important problems that Mr. Taft will pass over to Mr. Wilson for solution will be the development of Alaska. Practically nothing has been done the past four years on account of the Ballinger trouble, but with the coming in of the new administration, that vast country with its billions of tons of coal and vast quantities of other mineral wealth, the problem will be taken up in earnest we hope.

If a stranger came to this town he could organize the Great Eastern Mountain Life, Cyclone, Lightning and Accident Insurance Society and sell all the stock right here, yet somebody who was born and raised among us, who spends every cent he makes here can't sell a sassafras root to one of us without an investigation as to where it came from and all about it, he wouldn't be able to sell it even then if a stranger came along with one.

The happening in Mexico, the war between Turkey and the Balkan allies and the weather are too changeable for the weekly paper to comment upon.

Rudyard Kipling, in verse, established the "female of the species" as being more deadly than the male, but if the Womens Club can make of what is now in the middle of the square a Park Beautiful they will have established it in prose. It will mean the swiping out of everything from the highest peak of the pole to the lowly dog. It will be hard prosaic work on their part, but inestimable value to the town, not only in dollars and cents but in beauty.

If you lived in New York and had any doubt about the milk you were drinking, all you would have to do would be to call up the Board of Health and say you wished to know the bacterial count of the milk sold by Mr. So and So. You might not know much about the bacterial count after it had been given you but if you wanted to investigate further you could attend a lecture with moving picture illustrations now given free by the Milk Committee of New York City.

Mrs. McCormick Shows Improvement.

Mrs. Sallie McCormick, who has been seriously ill for the last week at her home on Danville street in this city of cerebral trouble, we are glad to be able to report, is showing improvement, and her many friends are hoping that she may continue to improve.

Crime Rampant In Mercer.

It is a deep source of regret to us that the grand jury had to report such bad things of our proud old county. There is no question, however, but for the last six or eight months crime and law-breaking has been bolder than for some years past.—Harrodsburg Leader.

More Steady Help.

Mr. Coleman Gully says Mr. Baily is not the only man in town that has steady help as he is also the proud possessor of two boys, another one having come to bless his home Friday morning. If this youngster is half as good looking and smart as Horace he will have cause for congratulations.

Mrs. Gibbs Returns.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gibbs returned Sunday from Rochester Minn., where they went to consult the Dr's Mayo in regard to Mrs. Gibbs, health. She hopes to derive considerable benefit from the treatment prescribed by these noted physicians. Dr. McKee of Lexington accompanied them on the trip to Rochester.

Chas. Hayden In Town.

Mr. Chas. Hayden, who has long been in the railway mail service and was at one time on the run through Lancaster, was shaking hands with friends here Monday. Mr. Hayden is at present, and has been for many years transfer clerk at the Tenth street depot in Louisville. He is a son of the late J. J. Hayden, who formerly lived in the Point Leavell section of this county.

Green Clay Walker Ill.

Mr. Green Clay Walker, formerly editor of the Record, is in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati, where he is undergoing treatment for rheumatism, a malady from which he has been a severe sufferer for some time. He is considerably improved and hopes within a few weeks to be entirely recovered and to be able to return home and prosecute his campaign for the nomination for County Attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Loses Old Friend.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Miller had the misfortune to lose their old family mare on last Monday. The faithful old beast was past twenty-five years of age and had traveled many hundred miles to and from Lancaster, bringing the young Millers to and from school, as well as doing the many other chores required of the usual family hack horse. She was in apparent good health, and was rolling in the yard, and when she did not get up, upon investigation she was found to have breathed her last.

Tribute To A Vanishing Race.

It must have been an impressive sight when twenty nine full blooded Indian chiefs between the ages of seventy and eighty, many of whom had fought Custer, attired in the regalia of their rank, marched side by side with the Great White Father to the highest crest of Staten Island.

While the Indian Chieftains sang the folk songs of their race, President Taft and Chief Hollow Horn Bear broke ground for a sixty foot bronze statue of an Indian warrior. As their voices died away the band broke out with the Star Spangled Banner, emblematic of the merging of a great race of people into that of another and a stronger one.

TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

Lancaster Rapidly Approaching A Certainty And Articles Of Incorporation To Be Filed In Near Future.

The fund for the erection of a Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse in Lancaster is growing rapidly, and it is expected that a sufficient number of shares of stock will have been subscribed shortly to enable the promoters to file articles of incorporation and get down to business.

It is earnestly desired that the farmers throughout the county become interested in the warehouse, that they subscribe to the stock, thereby creating an interest in the venture all over the county. This is not taking a chance, it is a purely legitimate investment, an investment that will pay you a handsome dividend, not only a liberal per cent, but will help the county, will increase the value of your real estate, enable you to market your tobacco at home, and you know the many advantages which will attend that proposition, it will increase the bank deposits, will cause the great bulk of the money which comes to the tobacco raiser to be spent at home, will materially increase the business of the home merchants, and in a thousand ways will help the county and thereby help you.

Think this matter over carefully. CAN YOU AFFORD TO LET THE OPPORTUNITY ESCAPE YOU TO ASSIST IN THIS MOVEMENT. The cost to you of marketing one crop of tobacco in a foreign market would purchase one share of stock in the home warehouse, and the purchase of one share by you might stimulate someone else to take stock, and so the entire amount might be raised.

"Town people" are doing nobly, but they cannot, nor do you desire them to do it all. You want to be interested yourself, for it is you who will reap the greatest benefit.

Do not delay longer in this matter, come in and let them show you who and how much has been subscribed, and see if you cannot associate yourself with these people in this enterprise. Every little bit helps, and be your subscription large or small, it will be acceptable.

Remember you are not simply giving, neither are you investing in a doubtful or "wildcat" venture; the history of these warehouses is that they have paid handsomely. If they paid in other places, then surely they will pay here in the best tobacco growing county in Kentucky. Come and help.

Do not be misled by persons who are interested in seeing that Lancaster DOES NOT get a warehouse giving you reasons why you should not subscribe for the stock. Substantial business men are back of this enterprise, men who have canvassed the situation thoroughly, have secured every detail, and they KNOW the house can be built and made a success. Come in and see them, any one of them will gladly explain the entire proposition to you.

Combination Sale.

A neat catalogue announcing the sale of Miller and Beazley at Mount Vernon on March 6th. and 7th. has reached this office and is quite attractive. This sale has every evidence of being a success and should be well patronized from this section. Write them for a catalogue and read their advertisement on another page of this issue.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Mr. S. D. Cochran on Monday sold his farm, which is situated on the Lexington pike a mile from town, and which is one of the best farms in the county, embracing in the boundary 264 acres to James I. Hamilton at $120, per acre; possession to be given January 1, 1914. Mr. Cochran then purchased of Mr. W. S. Carrier his handsome newly erected home on Danville street in Lancaster for $6,000. Mr. Cochran we are glad to learn will become a permanent citizen of Lancaster on January 1, 1914. We are also rejoiced over the fact that Mr. Carrier entertains no idea of leaving Lancaster, but is in the market for another home here.

The sales were consummated through the real estate firm of Hughes & Swinebroad.

President Wilson's Cabinet.

Cabinet makers have been busy ever since the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency, and about every man of any prominence in the country has been slated by one or the other of them for a berth in the official family. The following list which is given out by "men who are in a position to know", is probably nearer correct than any previously given:

Secretary of State, William J. Bryan of Nebraska.
Postmaster General, Albert S. Burleson of Texas.
Attorney General, Chancellor Walker of New Jersey.
Secretary of Treasury, William McAdoo of New York.
Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Louis D. Brandies of Massachusetts.
Secretary of Navy, Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.

The above selections are said to be correct, but that remains to be seen. No other reports that bear a sufficiently truthful appearance have been offered as to the remaining cabinet offices.

Publicity seems to be the missionary that opens the path to all modern reforms. Although that tribunal of the circuit court known as the grand jury is almost unlimited in its authority to investigate, yet its deliberations are shielded by the greatest secrecy. Thus relieved of the public gaze, many grand juries have been derelict of duty, when results would have been quite to the contrary if their acts and doings could have gotten to the public.

Judge Chas. A. Hardin of this circuit district has adopted a plan in handling his grand juries which is working admirably. In addition to the splendid and practical charge he delivers, the jury is directed to make a written report to the Court of its work with such recommendations as that body may deem advisable. These written reports will be helpful to the public as well as to the Court, the reports are not limited to a condition incidental to a violation of the penal laws. The grand jury may report on the conduct of all public offices and public officials. That body may investigate the financial condition of your city and county and report with recommendation. It may investigate the condition of your streets and public highways for the county with any recommendations. It may investigate as to the assessment of property, the rate of taxation and the collection of taxes.

If any one or more members of the grand jury itself fails or refuses to do his duty a report may make the facts known to the court. This report is not necessarily unanimous. It was only recently that two members of the grand jury of the Fayette Circuit court in Lexington made a minority report stating the failure of the other ten jurors to find indictments when the evidence was plain. Upon that minority report the judge publicly reprimanded the unfaithful ten, dismissed the body and empaneled another jury who found and returned ninety-two indictments that the former had refused to make and return.

This plan of reporting enables the judge to keep in touch with his grand jury, and to know the needs of his district. The publicity incidental to the work will educate the people upon the condition of their public affairs and we think a great deal of good will rapidly follow.

The news of the death of Capt Scott, the noted English explorer, has caused sorrow throughout all England, but the question arises; could not the tragedy have been avoided, and is such a dangerous expedition, glorious as it was, really worth the while?

No one for a moment doubts the glory of it. Scott and his followers died like heroes, and the United Kingdom is generously raising funds for their families and for a memorial worthy of their heroism. The gallant soldier's end in itself is to be regarded as a proof of his heroism; heroism and self sacrifice characteristically English, and to be remembered as long as the English spirit lives. In this and other aspects, such as Capt. Scott's dying message to the world, the tragedy is a kind to awaken the keenest national pride. But even in the pride that their fellow countrymen died like men, there is a feeling of anxiety and regret that perhaps some of the equipment was lacking that made for success in such an expedition.

Certainly such an expedition was worth while. Heroism in itself is a reward. The voices who claim that such an expedition was not worth while are few and faint; the great majority of us are thrilled by the courage and know, though we have some difficulty in explaining, why the explorer who overcomes such difficulties is a hero and has his adequate reward in that.

The fact that one is the first or the first of a few produces a keen pleasure characteristic to human nature, too common to us all to be treated as merely the product of vain ambition. Science is indebted to those who have given their fortunes and perhaps their lives to that mysterious call of the polar regions.

In regard to the scientific value of such an expedition, The editor of the Scientific American, says, "The meteorological observations alone repays all the hardships that must be endured. The knowledge of anarctic blizzards, atmospheric temperature wind velocities, etc., is absolutely indispensable in building up a science of weather forecasting, which will be an everlasting benefit to mankind. Long range weather prediction is still to be obtained. When the forecaster can actually tell us what will be the state of weather a week hence, so that every farmer can prepare himself, it will be found that the scientifically trained men who braved the icy blasts of the arctic and anarctic regions, who lived on oily seal meat for months, who even endured scurvy, contributed their share to the science of forecasting on an exact basis."

It looks very much as if Mexicans were not capable of governing Mexico, as if some master hand was needed to guide the destiny of that badly misguided country. The nearer affairs seem to be settled there, the more they become unsettled. As fast as one insurrection is suppressed, or suppresses the party in power, as the case may be, another insurrection arises, and each one seems to assume more prodigious size than its predecessor. It keeps Uncle Sam constantly on the quiver, and we would not be surprised at any time to see American troops compelled to take a hand, which will be done at the first show of the oppression of Americans because they are Americans; either that, or in pursuance of the Monroe doctrine, which provides that in an extremity the United States shall intervene, and the Powers are watching closely the attitude of this country, and expecting them to look after the safety of all foreign subjects in that country. So you see Uncle Sam has his hands full these days with his neighbor's affairs.

President Wilson has kept in close touch with the outgoing administration as regards the Mexican situation, and is fully as well informed of the status of affairs as is President Taft; in fact he and Pres. Taft have discussed the situation fully as well as members of the Cabinet, and when he comes into office, should the necessity present itself, Pres. Taft will be able to take up the matter in as intelligent a manner as if he had been in the presidential chair from the incipency of the disturbance.

It is a striking coincidence that William Faversham has been placing on the boards of the large theaters, the past week, a duplication of the tragedy which was in the maniac mind of John Wilkes Booth when he robbed the reunited nation of the service of Abraham Lincoln. "Et tu, Brute!"

hissed by an assassin in the old Ford Theater in Washington City, nearly half a century ago, sent a shudder through the entire civilized world; "Et tu, Brute!" hissed again on the very night Lincoln's natal day was being celebrated, by one of the dramatic elect, brought forth applause. With this coincidence there comes the reflection that in staging this greatest of Shakespearean tragedies, Faversham has selected for himself what other noted actors of the present day have deemed to be a secondary part, but which in reality is the keynote to the theatrical triumph of Julius Caesar. Mantel and Sothern prefer the role of Brutus, but Faversham as Mark Antony presents a character around which the entire interest centers. For a while Shakespearean plays seemed not so popular as lighter plays, but this season, the verdict of the public, as given by large audiences, is that the Elizabethan playwright, the peerless William, bard of Avon wrote for time and to eternity. It is said the new opera house at Lexington will be opened with Marlowe and Sothern in their repertoire of Shakespearean plays with the same cast and scenic embellishments that characterized successful engagements in New York and Boston.

It should be unnecessary to urge the farmers to attend an institute held in their own county, free of all cost to them and for their special instruction and benefit. This is a day of scientific farming and if any farmer would successfully compete with his neighbor he must know the way to get the largest returns for the labor and investment he has made.

If the farmers will only attend this institute conducted by the representatives of the Department of Agriculture of your state they will be more than repaid for the time consumed. You can learn how to grow fruits and vegetables. Your corn crops will yield a larger harvest. Your stock will be made fatter with less feed if you will come and learn of the methods and adopt them. Mr. Newman of the department of Agriculture is laboring to re-establish these institutes that were most wrecked during the term of his predecessor, and it should be a privilege of the farmers of this county to make the one to be held here this week a success. Upon the program and some of the very best lecturers to be had for the subjects assigned to them and you will be interested if you will attend.

Get a sanitary 'phone disc, free at Curreys.

Farmers Institute.

Don't forget the Farmers Institute, in session today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, at the Court House. The programme is an interesting one and practical farmers who are good speakers are here to talk to you. Every minute will prove of interest to you. Come in and hear them.

Judge E. C. O'Rear Here.

Judge E. C. O'Rear, who has been retained in the prosecution of the Robinson insurance case in the Lincoln circuit court, came to Lancaster on last Thursday night and was the guest of J. E. Robinson, motoring to Stanford Friday morning, where the preliminary legal steps were taken up before Judge Hardin.

Christian Church Annex.

A. E. Weber and Co. of Cincinnati, who prepared the plans for our new school building, have also prepared the plans for the Annex to be added to the Christin Church and same are here and in the hands of the committee to be let out for competitive bidding. It is to be hoped that the contract will be let at once and the building be completed by early fall.

George T. Mason Here.

Mr. George T. Mason of Chicago has been in Lancaster this week the guest of his mother Mrs. Margaret Mason and his brother, Circuit Clerk W. B. Mason. Mr. Mason has been connected with the Berkshire Insurance Co. and has been stationed in the same office in Chicago for the last twenty five years, and is one of the most prominent insurance men in the Windy City. He makes annual visits to his old home at Lancaster, where he has a host of friends who always welcome his return.

"Uncle Sam" Now Owns Lancaster Property.

Hon. Sawyer T. Smith came last Friday as a representative of the U. S. Government and paid the purchase money for the proposed government building site, $4500. to Mrs. J. W. Grant and $500. to the Presbyterian church. The deeds were made and "Uncle Sam" now owns the property. The appropriation for the erection of the building seems to have been "lost in the shuffle", but we will hope for the future, anyway, we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have the site if we never get the building.

Boys Climb Tower.

We had thought that there would be no one in Lancaster with sufficient hardihood to climb the water tower, a distance of 178 feet, and we were rather inclined to the belief that it was unnecessary for the City Council to enact an ordinance fixing a penalty for the offense, but we had not reckoned on daring spirit of the small boy. On Monday afternoon two lads aged about 14 years, their school books over their shoulders made their way to the tower, and after a brief survey of the surrounding country, deliberately descended. They were met at the bottom by Chief Herron and the warning that he would not be so lenient in the future.

Climbing the water tower is a dangerous undertaking and parents should warn their children against making the ascent.

A Welcome Visitor.

Mr. George D. Burdett, a one time resident of Lancaster, was in town Wednesday and made a pleasant call at the Record office. Mr. Burdett is, well we will not say just how old, but anyway he looks only half his years, and is as hearty and jovial as he was way back in the '80s when he was in the mercantile business in Lancaster. He is general agent for the Central Life Insurance Co., and within a short time expects to return to Lancaster in the interest of his company. Mr. Burdett has a ready wit, an inexhaustible supply of interesting stories and enjoys the acquaintance of all the old timers around Lancaster, who will enjoy his society whether or not they buy any of his life insurance.

Situation In Mexico Becoming Acute And Intervention By The United States Becomes More And More Probable.

While being taken to the penitentiary from the jail in the city of Mexico ex-President Madero and his vice president, Jose del Suarez were assassinated, by whom it is not known, and as yet failed to give any satisfactory explanation of their death, but have promised a rigid investigation.

It is rumored that demands have been made on American citizens at Matamoros for money, and Gov. Colquitt of Texas, acting on this report ordered Texas state guards to Brownsville, but Maj. General Wood ordered Gen. Steever to prevent the Texans from crossing the International border.

Gen. Huerta is in charge in Mexico as provisional Governor, and it is more than probable that Felix Diaz, who headed the latest rebellion will be chosen to guide the destinies of the ill starred country. Meantime, there is uprising all over the country and the situation is in no wise improved since the overthrow of Madero.

As yet there has been no act committed that would to the mind of Pres. Taft justify intervention by this country, but some overt act is liable to be committed at anytime which will necessitate such a move, and with this view, troops are being mobilized at Galveston, with orders to be ready to march at a moments notice.

July 30, 31 And Aug. 1st. Are The Dates For The 1913 Meeting Of The Lancaster Fair. K. of P. Lodge To Again Have Supervision And Good Meeting Is Assured.

The Knights of Pythias have definitely decided to give another Fair this year, and have already commenced preliminary arrangements for the meeting, and offer assurance of the best meeting in the history of the best Fair in Central Kentucky.

Messrs J. W. Elmore, J. A. Beasley, J. R. Haselden, R. H. Tomlinson and R. L. Elkin have been appointed a committee on arrangements as to grounds and other preliminaries, and the work will be pushed from now until the date of the exhibition, which will be Lancaster's old dates, July 30th and 31st and August 1st.

The K. of P. Lodge gave the Fair of last year, and with only a few weeks in which to do the work, gave an exhibition which was a credit to the county, a county which stands at the head of list when it comes to the matter of giving a creditable live stock show. With the ample time which they are giving themselves this year they propose to outdo anything ever attempted in this part of the country along that line, and their success is not at all problematical.

Last year the lodge just about broke even on their venture, or perhaps lost a little money, but they were not daunted by their poor financial success, and propose this year to retrieve their losses and at the same time give the best possible exhibition.

The K. P.'s deserve great credit for their efforts along this line and should and will have the hearty approval and cooperation of every citizen in Garrard county.

Begin right now to talk and boost the greatest Fair in the greatest Fair county in Kentucky.

Marshbanks.

Miss Mary Marshbanks died at her home near Paint Lick on the 19th inst. of pneumonia and her remains were interred in the Paint Lick cemetery on the following day after funeral services by Eld. F. M. Tindler. Miss Marshbanks was a highly respected christian lady and had a wide circle of friends in that section of the county who were sorely grieved at her death. She was about 55 years of age, and with her brother lived at the home of Mr. Chris McClure.

Norton Fitch Receiving Congratulations.

Hon. J. Norton Fitch of Jessamine county was in town Monday and was receiving the congratulations of his many Garrard county friends over his appointment as a member of the State Board of Control, succeeding Judge Wells of Calloway county, who has been named to succeed the late lamented Warden Mudd of the Frankfort penitentiary.

Mr. Fitch for a number of years has been chairman of the Eighth District Democratic Committee, and by fair dealing and gentlemanly conduct has gained for himself innumerable friends, who while they regret to give him up from the old position, rejoice at his appointment to the new one, which is quite remunerative.

A New Garage.

Mr. Frank Conn, a son of Mr. Robert Conn of Paint Lick and a brother of Messrs James and John Conn, has become a resident of Lancaster and has associated himself with Mr. Virgil Conn, and these two gentlemen will conduct an up to date garage at the old Conn shop on Buford street. They will have about 600 feet of floor space and will be prepared to do everything that is required to be done to an automobile, from repairing a puncture to building one from the ground up. These are two clever young gentlemen and they are engaging in a business that has long been needed in Lancaster. That they know their business goes without saying, for there was never one of this family of Conns that could not repair anything from a watch to a threshing machine.

Wills Probated.

In the county court Monday the Will of Miss Margaret Patterson was admitted to probate. The instrument was in her own handwriting and was dated May 27, 1908, and there was a codicil, also in her own handwriting under date of Feb. 12, 1912. She did not name an executor and the court appointed Mr. George F. Brown to administer the last terms of the instrument. He immediately qualified. Miss Patterson devised that her money should be divided equally between her niece Margaret Brown; her horse and buggy to her sister Mrs. Geo. F. Brown her household goods to Miss Margaret Brown and her home place, known as the "Patterson homestead" she gave to her nephew Holman Brown. The Will of the late Mr. John K. West was also admitted to probate and Mr. B. F. Hudson was named as executor.

Work Of Maj. W. H. Collier.

The St. Louis Star devotes a page of its large paper to a picture and to the work of Maj. Collier. His friends and relatives are justly proud that his work receives recognition and indorsement from such a paper in the following terms.

"Of all the large cities of the United States, St. Louis holds the record as one where the government is defrauded out of the largest amount on tax it should derive and, so far, all efforts to break up a gang of illicit dealers in oleomargarine and such things has resulted in failures. The brunt of the task has fallen on Maj. W. H. Collier, who as a compliment to his efficiency was transferred and placed in charge of the St. Louis office the middle of December. Since beginning his task Major Collier has himself led raids on a score or more of illicit factories, he has battered down doors, subdued vicious dogs and blown safes in securing evidence with which he expects to bring about some startling convictions. In the language of Maj. Collier he is after big game, and will be very badly fooled if he does not quickly buy a large supply of it. He says he is after the men higher up and intimates there are some surprises in-store when he gets through. Maj. Collier says after having once demonstrated to the big violations that they have no pull he believes the task of enforcing laws will be comparatively easy."

The article, which is too long to print, goes on to give examples of the daring of Maj. Collier in securing evidence which after having been procured he has to get in shape and present to the Grand Jury and the court.

A. B. Estridge Ill.

News come from Paint Lick of the serious illness of Mr. A. B. Estridge, much to the regret of his numerous Lancaster friends. Mr. Estridge has been in failing health for more than a year. He was formerly in the mercantile business at Paint Lick, and is one of the leading citizens and farmers of that section.

Fish And Game Club Organized In Garrard County.

Sixteen of the most ardent sportsmen in and around Lancaster gathered at the police court room recently to talk over the organization of a Fish and Game Club for Garrard county. The meeting was held upon the invitation of Mr. J. E. Stormes, and it was intended to be only a preliminary meeting, but so enthusiastic were those gathered that an organization was formed with Mr. Stormes as President and Mr. George W. Palmer as Secretary.

It is hoped that this little band thus organized will prove a nucleus around which will gather an organization composed of at least one hundred citizens of Garrard county, who are interested in seeing the fish and game protected and the new splendid game laws of the state of Kentucky enforced in Garrard as they are in other counties of the state.

The organization of these clubs insures the appointment of a game warden, and the amount paid in by the members in the way of dues will be supplemented by an amount from the State Fish and Game Commission, which will enable us to secure a good man for the months of the year which his services are most needed.

Mr. Quincy Ward, State Agent of the Commission, and who by the way is doing a magnificent work in the cause, has been invited to come to Lancaster and give his assistance in perfecting the local club, and he has heretofore signified his willingness to come. It is especially desired to have the farmers of the county to take membership in the club, more especially those who live along the streams. Their cooperation would mean a great deal to the game warden, as would also his efforts mean a great deal to the farmers. In addition to the protection thrown around the fish and game, they would be protected against trespassers, the danger to their stock from promiscuous hunters would be reduced to the minimum, the danger to their fencing from being torn down by hunters and fishermen, who have hitherto wandered at random, in many instances going where they pleased, leaving gates open and pulling down fences, would be stopped, and they would receive many material benefits from the appointment of an efficient man as game warden in the county.

The Fish and Game Commission has exceeded the fondest expectations of those who expected to reap some benefit from its efforts; it was hoped that they might get from gun licenses in the state at least $15,000; this sum has reached the splendid figure of $37,000, the sum advanced to the Commission by the state to start its operations, has long since been repaid, and the Commission is now upon a paying basis, and in all likelihood will remain so.

U. S. States Government statistics reveal the fact that Kentucky has more miles of fish streams, streams suitable for the propagation of game fish than any state in the union. We now have a splendid opportunity to preserve these streams from the inroads of the seiners, dynamiters and others who have been accustomed to devastate the streams unmolested. There is no license required to fish, but the game warden devotes just as much, and probably more, of his time and attention to the protection of the streams as he does to the fields.

Every man in Garrard county who occasionally enjoys "wetting a line", or who desired to see our sadly depleted stock of game replenished, should join in this splendid movement; the cost will be practically nothing, the larger the club the smaller the dues.

Ample notice will be given as to when Mr. Ward will be here, and it is earnestly desired that every citizen in the county who is interested in this laudable movement, come in and hear what he has to say.

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

Last week as was stated in your excellent paper, the Womans Club presented a proposition to the improvement of the Park. The committee from the Council received this proposition and a final vote will be taken at their regular meeting the 1st Monday night in March. This vote may not be favorable to the changes so much desired, the council may not care to exercise their authority, but whatever the issue may be the Womans Club will still stand pledged to the best and highest interest of Lancaster.

The paragraphs written below are the expressions and sentiments of different members of the Womans Club.

Public feeling in regard to the way the Park looks may be slow to crystallize, but, when once aroused it will be slow to abate and exacting in its demands. Every day it is left in its present state but adds to the feeling that civic pride is being outraged and that others have their rights besides the Bastin Telephone Co and the electric light plant.

It is the cherished hope not only of The Womans Club, but of all the citizens of the town who have any civic pride, that a clean sweep will be made in the so called Park. I am not a member of the club but love every foot of this old town whose history and traditions have been handed down to me from past generations who worked for it and loved it. We should not expect the same love and reverence from those who move into it because they see a way to make a living or from any other commercial reason, but we should expect it to be respected by those who are placed in charge to protect and care for it.

Taking the poles out of the Park will not only make that spot attractive but it will enhance property value and beautify the town, so it seems we should be helped by the town in this laudable work.

It may be doubted whether a person who has traveled much has found anywhere in the world a more unsightly spot than the one known as "The Park". Will we allow it to remain so? This is the question.

Has the cloud that hangs over the park a silver lining? We think so.

We hope The Bastin Telephone Co will not think of suing the town, as was suggested to them by one of the councilmen, for being asked to hand back something that was loaned them.

Just one question I would like to ask: are councilmen elected by the people for the people and for the town, or what are they elected for?

Co-operation is the secret of prosperity and success and while I have never been an active member of the club I now want to put my support, enthusiasm and work into something for which unborn generations will rise up and call us blessed.

How facts and figures can obscure truth! We do not care how much it will cost to take the poles out of the park or how much it costs to put them there, the question is have they the right to occupy it against the wishes of the citizens who have civic pride and really care for the town.

We feel that we have more to accomplish than most any town of our class because our citizenship will not permit a lagging in advancement. Our citizenship wants good schools, good roads and a town that is good to live in. The people who were born and reared here, who belong to proud old families take a just pride in the town, they have never been lacking in extending their church, school and home facilities to meet requirements, and since this wave of civic improvement has swept over this broad land of ours, we know it will not be long in this

While I do not belong to the Womans Club I recognize the value for good in the community to join it as I think every citizen should, and work for a Park that will be a credit to every citizen would want to see it better than it is.

Such subjects as the one before us should begin in the home and school. Civic pride should be taught as English, Latin or mathematics. A school league should be formed just as soon as the new school building is entered and children should be taught how to care for such a building and then of course they will be taught civic pride. To neglect such a training of children can hardly be classified as anything but criminal. Cultured subjects alone make a poor training for citizenship; no education or training for life is complete if only "book learning" is taught. In many schools practical civic training is being added to a curriculum which has been largely theoretical and those schools will turn out boys and girls to take the place of men and women who know not the meaning of civic pride.

Lancaster needs civic pride and patriotism just as much as she needs to add to her agricultural activities, industrial advancement. Our concentrated effort is the first step, setting aside small differences and coming together on this question, just as we did on the school question. If we do this the time will come when we will be just as proud of a beautiful park as we are of a beautiful school. We feel that we surely should have as much right to make a park beautiful as others have to make a park ugly, and that is all we are asking for.

Our system of education is now an absurdity as a preparation for life. There is no systematic attempt to teach the child ethics, or to teach either boy or girl that they have weighty obligations, that they are coward shirks, to his town and community. The place to begin such work as this is in the home and in the school.

Will suffrage solve such problems as the one confronting us? At any rate the women who are doing well the work at hand to do, the women who see the necessity of clean, well-kept towns, healthful towns, will be the most helpful citizens of the state when she uses the ballot.

Women's Clubs of today are a real and interesting subject. Co-operation has made them a power. Few are the big movements that do not seek the good will of the federated women's clubs. Many a city would be without playgrounds, parks, clean streets and other civic necessities were it not for women's clubs. We are now agitating the subject of a Park Beautiful and we ask not only the help of the citizens, but we ask the public to see the value of better conditions in our town.

A person who once lived here came back on a visit and was heard to remark: "Well, I always wondered why Lancaster had cholera twice, but if she has it the third time I want wonder why, I'll know that park goes to her." Then this visitor went on to say that they supposed filth and unsightly objects were like cholera, which we first pity, then endure, and finally embrace." Another former resident was heard to say: "Well I didn't know that Park (?) did look so bad. I never thought anything about it. I lived here and saw it daily, but it is certainly an unsightly spot."

Why make of the Womans Club the incessant boosters, the press agents and pushers for a Park Beautiful? It is the duty of every man, woman and child in the town to feel as we do and we should let the matter rest until we have hearty co-operation from them.

Women should want the franchise

not only because it is hers by right, but as a means by which she can better fulfill her responsibilities. This subconscious knowledge that the franchise is a kingdom is out of joint, the sense of powerlessness and futility that comes away with when we can reach into the balance.

There has been some disappointment to the Civic League of the Womans Club in regard to the attitude taken by the corporation whose poles occupy the central place in our park and also by the City Council that has control of this little spot of ground that belongs to the people, but seems to be the "apple of discord" in our midst, forever causing strife and war. We had hoped for a peaceful and happy settlement of this matter and yet believe it will come. When it does fall into the hands of the Womans Club, as it is destined to do in the near future, that arid waste will be made to blossom like a rose.

Will we ever reach the end of this rainbow? Let us not be discouraged we might find a pot of gold at the end of it.

Our Park gives strangers and visitors a wrong impression of our town. It would seem that we are a thrifty and self-respecting people, if you should call on a family, and find the front gate off of the hinges, the steps falling down and a general appearance of decay you would immediately decide that they were not very prosperous. So people arriving into our town are impressed by the condition of the park and square, and in reality a progressive little town, it is then a great mistake to give to people the wrong estimate of our town and its people.

May I ask a question? That the town may be improved, and beautified we are ordered by the council to make new pavements around the square. It will also improve the appearance of the town to move the poles from the Park. Why does not the Council order that done? Each improvement will cost some money, why consider one and not the other?

In looking at the Park with its sagging fence, gnarled and twisted trees, springwagons leaning dejectedly, the dilapidated water trough you are reminded of a barn lot away in the country, you look and listen for the creaking of the old ox-cart, the "gee" and "haw" of the driver, the crowing of the rooster. Instead there comes the swift flight of automobiles around the corner. Nicely dressed men and women pass by—you rub your eyes and wonder if it is a deserted lot or the Central Park of the prosperous city of Lancaster.

"With look intent, eye and ear attentive bent" upon the park, we hear the cries of the neglected trees. "Woodman spare us not." Unsightly poles entreating for the quiet corner in some alley way where adverse conditions could not be heard, where the burden of light and sound could be more effectively borne, with profit to all and loss to none. Will not the good citizens, men and women stand for the betterment of our town and unite their efforts with the women's club work to make OUR PARK a thing of beauty and joy forever, that we will not in all time to come regret that we might have been done. Together we can make an opportunity before us, and make for Lancaster let us have a park improvement.

I love, I love, I love my town, but oh you Park! And oh you dirty streets and oh you meat and ice stands placed on the square!

As a member of the Womans club and a lover of Lancaster, I feel that the subject of "the very best" should be considered in the Park improvement plans. Since so much thought and care have been given to the matter it will certainly be a mistake to let consideration of the "cost of things" mar the correctness of the plans, civic beauty pays a "large percent on every dollar expended, and the Council will be wise if it grasps this opportunity of helping in a material way to improve Lancaster. It sides all this and because of the interest we deeply feel, there has been created in the club women a civic conscience and anything but perfect conditions is disturbing indeed.

Does any other town in the State of Kentucky allow such a public square?

It is a peculiar fact that it is human nature to hesitate to improve something that is not absolutely one's own—only public property. It is not a new thing in the case of our park and the gentlemen that hesitate now are as most of us have been in the past, yet I feel confident, after due consideration on their part, they will let civic pride come to the rescue and be willing to remove the obstacle that confront us. The Womans Club was the direct agent that brought about the Pure Food Law, many firms fought this yet now not one of these firms would have it different, many thought the drinking cup ordinance a terrible inconvenience and expense but how truly they realize now it is best, many have had to make new walks with much inconvenience and expense but become reconciled when the work was completed. There is always a great satisfaction in doing the right thing whether it be for one's self or for others and when our park is improved I feel sure it will bring pleasure and satisfaction to every citizen.

We would ask our council to read an editorial in Monday's Courier Journal, entitled, making the town better. It refers to Danville and what the Danville club women have accomplished as being worthy of State-wide attention. If no town but Lancaster sees it—it was not printed in vain.

"Now is the acceptable time," says the Bible, and the rule holds good for all good decisions.

"Lose this day loitering"—it will be the same story.

To-morrow—and the next more dilatory; Then indecision brings its own delays, And days are lost lamenting o'er lost days.

Are you in earnest? Seize this very minute

What you can do, or dream you can, begin it!"

Why not this for a slogan for our civic department?

Mr. Raymond, the architect, says it pays to advertise, that he has had proposals galore since we gave out that he was heart whole and fancy free.

Miss Olive Dean who has made such a hit as an impersonator has been asked to help in several home talent shows, the proceeds of same to be used in Lancaster.

Mr. John McRoberts who is making good at State University came home in honor of "The Father of his Country's" birthday. He brought with him a handsome young man in the person of Mr. Carlyle Jefferson of Pewee Valley.

Billy Miller says buy flowers from him to send to your girl Easter, that he is going to send his girl long stemmed American beauty roses at $2.00 per dozen.

Glass Carrier says that Billy has nothing over him, as he also sells flowers and proposes to send his girl Easter lilies.

Sam Denny on being asked by a young lady, why he didn't have a valentine in the Record, told her that he was working on one for next year. On being questioned about it, he said: "I will not tell you the words, but the sentiments are something like this: I would rather hear you chew chewing gum than hear Caruso sing."

Miss Bessie Wilkerson the bright and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilkerson has just completed a course at the Danville Business College in typewriting and short hand and her capable teacher Miss Dove Harris says she is one of the best that ever graduated from that school. Miss Bessie has a host of friends here who wish her success in her new vocation.

Miss Martha Kavanaugh has thrown her hat in the ring and become a full fledged "schoolmarm", and more than one young man has been heard to say he considered his education incomplete and wanted to start back to school. Some are asking to leave colleges and universities and come "where sits the school house", they are even willing to be that beggar.

An interesting article appeared in the Publishers Auxiliary which was written by Lewis Landrum former editor of Central Record. The article is entitled "The Utility Man in the Newspaper Office". It was in Lancaster that Bangs learned to be a utility man occupying any place in the office from the Devil to the Editor and now that he is a big Editor in "Little Brittain" he does not "scorn the base degrees by which he did ascend".

We thank the City Editor for saying we were developing (?) into a poet, we thought he knew poets were born not made, but since he has been seen to tenderly lift large hat boxes and bird cages in and out of the rural delivery wagon, we think he is developing a disposition that is made and not born and that will be a great help to him, if all we hear is true. If he keeps on developing in this direction, we think we can safely turn over the poem on Spring to him or if he would rather, one on love.

Nothing worries him any more, though his wagon looks like a department store, that has been placed on wheels, for bric-a-brac fishing poles and reels. With crates of turnips and of cheese and scythes and forks and humble bees, chickens, eggs, mutton chops and a large roost. Even a baby sent by Parcel Post, would not change this feeling sublime, that makes him notice every every rhythm and rhyme, of sales and thin-musky thins.

That the children of Lancaster may know that they are not the only ones that ever celebrated Longfellow's birthday we print the following, leaving out nothing but the date, (for reasons best known to us), however we will venture to say, it did not happen yesterday.

Longfellow Day—The anniversary of Longfellow's birthday was appropriately celebrated on the 27th, by the Roseland and Roselawn Societies at the Female Institute under the supervision of Mrs. Yantis and Miss Edith McKay.

Both societies reflected much credit on themselves and instructors by the manner in which they performed their parts, considering that only one week had been spent in preparation, and during that time no lessons were excused.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, all of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. U. S. Government Seeking Opinion Of The People As To Best Methods Of Government Assistance In Road Building.

The Record is in receipt of the following communication from Hon. Jonathan Bourne Jr., who is Chairman of the Joint Committee On Federal Aid
In The Construction Of Post Roads.

My Dear Sir:
I am very anxious to obtain for the benefit of the Joint Committee, an intelligent expression of public opinion
on the basic questions involved in the granting of Federal aid in road improvement. It occurs to me you might like to cooperate in this matter to the extent of stimulating the public to an expression of their views. If this suggestion strikes you favorably, will you kindly advise me as early as practicable as to public opinion in your section of the country on the following questions.

1. Should the Government make appropriations in aid of public roads?
2. On what roads should the first Government appropriation, if made, be expended (a) all roads, (b) post roads
(c) d. and star routes; (d) main traveled market roads; (e) main highways connecting important cities and towns in State; (f) trunk line, interstate highways connecting State capitals and large cities?

3. Should the Government appropriation be expended on construction,
on maintenance, on general improvement, or any or all of these, or should the allotment by the Government be unconditional, or paid as a reward after local authorities have constructed or maintained a highway in good condition?

4. What proportion of cost of construction, improvement, or maintenance should be borne by National Government, State, county, road district,
and abutting property owners, respectively, or what amounts should be allotted to the States on an unconditional plan, or what amount per mile
should be paid as rewards?

5. Should the Federal appropriation be apportioned among the States on basis of population, area, mileage of rural and star routes, taxable value,
or a combination of these?

6. Should the supervision of construction or maintenance of Government aided roads be by the Federal Government, the State and local authorities, or jointly?

Kindly let me know in what manner
you submit these questions to the people of your community, and how soon
you can probably report the consensus of opinion.

Yours very truly

Jonathan Bourne, Chairman.
The letter is self explanatory and we would be glad to have the opinion
of just as many citizens of the county
as possible on the above subject; the letters to state your opinion briefly and to be in the Record office not later than March 1st.

"My! How I Did Suffer But Now I'm Happy All Day Long And Sleep Fine."

That's what a woman said just a few months ago. She said more and here it is.

"I wish it lay within my power to persuade every woman sufferer from dyspepsia or indigestion (or whatever they may think their stomach trouble
is) to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets
one week's fair trial. I am sure that every one of them would thank me
from the bottom of her heart."

"I am well and happy for the first time in years and I do not hesitate to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets all the credit." Follow this advice. Give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets a week's trial; if they do not benefit R. E. Mc-Roberts & Son will return the cost—50 cents.

BUCKEYE.

Mr. Hiram Ray was in Nicholasville
last week.

Mr. Mose Davis is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mal Carter.

Little Miss Lucille Teater of Danville
is visiting Miss Ruth Ray.

Wm. Ray sold to A.C. Miles one calf
four months old, price $10.

Rev. Godbey of Nicholasville will preach here next Sunday morning.

Miss Flo Hill entertained a few of her young friends "at dinner" Friday.

Miss Barbara Guiley was given "a surprise party" last Wednesday evening.

Misses Emma and Bessie Sanders of Madison were the guests of Miss Leota
Ray Sunday.

Miss Bulah Beazley entertained a few of her friends very pleasantly
Saturday evening.

Mrs. R. I. Burton has returned to her home at Bryantsville after a visit to Mrs. Mary Burton.

Mrs. Nora Teater has returned home after a visit to her aunt Mrs. L. M.
Crutchfield at Nicholasville.

Mrs. Walter Davis of Bryantsville, was the guest last week of her parents
Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Hendren.

Mrs. Claud Swope of Bryantsville
and Mr. Walter Arnold of Columbus Ohio were the guests last week of Mr.
and Mrs. Ed Arnold.

Rev. O. P. Bush filled his appointment here Sunday afternoon and preached a very practical sermon, his subject being, "Take heed of thyself". He has many friends in this community that wish him much success in his new field
at Columbia.

Mr. Robert Carter and Miss Naomi Metcalf were married at the home of the officiating minister Rev. F. M. Tin-der Feb. 19th. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mal Carter of this place, while she is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Patience Metcalf of Judson. We wish them a bright and happy future.

Mr. G. W. Anderson died at the home of Mr. L. M. Crutchfield at Nicholasville Monday night Feb. 17th. He was in his 89th year, and had always lived in this county until two years ago when he moved to Nicholasville. His remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery. He leaves three daughters, Mrs.
Hiram Ray of this place, Mrs. Wolford
Raney of Lagrange and Mrs. L. M.
Crutchfield of Nicholasville.

WAR DECLARED

CATARRH Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will Be Destroyed.

If you have Catarrh you must vanquish an army of persistent, destructive microbes before you can be healthy.

You might as well choose your weapons, declare war and destroy this army
of Catarrh germs right now.

Booth's HYOMEI, a pleasant germ destroying air breathed over the entire membrane will kill Catarrh germs.

Booth's HYOMEI (pronounce it High-
o-me) is guaranteed by R. E. McRoberts to end Catarrh or money back. It surely is fine for Coughs, Colds and Croup. If you own a little HYOMEI hard rubber pocket inhaler get a separate bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents.

If you haven't an inhaler secure a complete outfit for only $1. Just breathe
it—no stomach dosing.

PRIZES OF $1,000 IN GOLD.

Offered By The Lexington Leader For Best Solutions Of Book Titles In Contest Game.

The LEXINGTON LEADER is about to begin a Booklovers Contest. It is really more of a game than a contest,
as there is no solicitation or canvassing, and anybody living in Kentucky
who takes the LEADER may compete.
Prizes amounting to $1,000 in gold will be awarded to those who guess the greatest number of book titles represented by pictures. Following is a list of the prizes:

First Prize.....$500 in gold.
Second Prize.....$100 in gold.
Third Prize.....$ 50 in gold.
Fourth Prize.....$ 50 in gold.
Fifth Prize.....$ 25 in gold.
Sixth Prize.....$ 25 in gold.
Seventh Prize.....$ 25 in gold.
Eighth Prize.....$ 25 in gold.
Ten of $10 each.....$100 in gold.
Twenty of $5 each.....$100 in gold.
Total prizes.....$1,000 in gold.

Contests of this character have proven intensely popular in the larger cities all over the country, as guessing
the titles of the books is great fun and everybody has a chance. The contest will run 11 weeks, 77 pictures in all,
and the LEADER is making a special rate of $1.50 for the afternoon and Sunday editions till June 1, covering the period of the contest, the examination of the answers and the awarding
of the prizes.

Send subscriptions direct of the LEX-INGTON LEADER, Lexington, Ky., without delay, so as to start in with the beginning of the contest. If you want more particulars before subscribing drop a postal card to the LEADER.

Here It is. The Much Talked Of "Webb
Bill."

The Webb liquor bill, which in certain instances diverts shipments of liquor of its interstate character and makes it subject to the laws of the state which it enters, is now in the hands of Pres't Taft, and he has asked the Attorney General for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The bill has passed both houses and is ready for the President's signature. The bill is as follows:
"Be it enacted, that the shipment or transportation in any manner or by any means whatsoever of any spirituous,
vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind from one State, Territory or district of the United States or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof
into any other State, Territory or district of the United States, or place
noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory,
or district of the United States, or place
noncontiguous to but subject to the
jurisdiction thereof, which said spirituous,
vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquor is intended by any person interested therein to be received, possessed, sold or in any manner used either in the original package or otherwise in violation of any law of such State, Territory, or district of the United States or place noncontiguous
to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, is hereby prohibited."

The Journey Of Life.

Life is strictly business in this old world below.

You have to pay for all you get, or do, or have or know

You have to pay for sickness, you have to pay for health.

You have to pay for poverty, for idleness, for wealth.

You have to pay for everything, there is no chance to shirk.

You have to pay for laziness, you have to pay for work.

But Why Pay More For The Same Goods

Than you Need Pay

The Easy Laxative

In Justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, biliousness
 and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics.
 They give but temporary relief.
 They often aggravate the real trouble.
 They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like
 candy and are noted for their easy,
 soothing action upon the bowels.

They don't purge, gripe, cause
 nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies
 almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies.
 They are ideal for aged or delicate

persons as well as for the most robust.
 They act toward relieving constipation, and also to overcome its cause
 and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves
 and muscles of the bowels and associated organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction.
 We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes; 12
 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 50
 tablets, 35c.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Remedies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why we use Open Hearth Wire in Preference to all other kinds

Remember the iron wire your father and your grandfather had around the farm? Good old wire, wasn't it? The Special Open Hearth Wire, as we make it today from our own (secret) formula, is more like the old time iron wire than that used in any other make of fence.

It takes longer to make this special Open Hearth Wire, but it excels in strength, toughness and long life, and consequently makes the most serviceable, satisfactory fence. The wire is the very foundation of fence durability.

Buy "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence for lasting satisfaction.

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN, CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. Do not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Brands of Barbed Wire, Bright, Annealed & Galvanized Wire, Twisted Cable Wire, Hard Spring Coil Wire, Fence Staples, Poultry Netting Staples, Regular Wire Nails, Galvanized Wire Nails, Large Head Roofing Nails, Single Loop Bale Ties, "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fencing. Government Assistance In Road Building.

Because of our crowded condition last week the article in reference of Government assistance in the construction and maintenance of roads was omitted. However, we are publishing Mr. Bourne's letter this week, which is self explanatory, and we would be glad to have as many answers and suggestions as possible in regard to the matter, and at the earliest possible date, in order that we may furnish Mr. Bourne with the information he desires.

Washington On Bust.

Washington is the Mecca of the Democrats of the entire country. Next Tuesday will witness the inauguration of a democratic president, quite an unusual event, and a great many Democrats will go just through a matter of party pride and a great many will go more particularly to at least view the promised land, just to at least get a glimpse of the pie counter and to see the gentleman who is to do the dispensing. The latter class will have their trouble for their pains, for Gov. Wilson after he becomes president Wilson will be just about the busiest man in the country, and will have neither time nor inclination to devote to the office seekers.

John Bunny's Face Is His Fortune.

"Movie" Comedian Known The World Over.

It has been said of John Bunny that his face is his fortune. You can't help laughing when you look at it. He never has to "make up" because nothing could add to his appearance.

For three years now Bunny has been with the Vitagraph company. During that time he has gained world-wide fame and his face is familiar to people in every civilized country—for moving pictures have gone wherever civilization has gone. In France, Bunny is known as Monsieur Cinema. In Germany he is hailed everywhere as Herr Kintop. Not a town of importance in America or Europe—except perhaps in Turkey—that doesn't know him by one name or another.

"There are some disadvantages of having such a well known face," remarked Bunny the other day. "I shudder when I think of what would happen to me were I to commit a crime and attempt to escape from the police who would soon be on my trail. Every policeman in New York knows me and it even makes speeding impossible. I have a new forty-horse power car, but I don't dare run it more than ten miles an hour."

"Last summer when I was abroad posing for a series of Pickwick pictures I had many amusing experiences. The Vitagraph films had been shown in England and Ireland for a long time and I was recognized everywhere I went. One night in Belfast I left my hotel to take a little stroll about the town. Hardly had I gone a block from the hotel when I ran into three young Irish girls. One of them let out an ear-piercing shriek, 'Holy Saint Patrick!' she cried, 'It's the man in the pictures!'"

"When I visited the Giant's Causeway I climbed over rocks that had barred many younger and more active men. I was anxious to see everything and I attempted to reach one of the most inaccessible spots which was noted for the fine view to be obtained there. I was told that no one but natives ever reached the top, but nothing daunted, I started out to reach it. When I got about half way up and was ready to turn back I heard a voice from the heights above singing out: 'Hello, Johnny Bunny. Come on up. The weather's fine.'"

"Out in Whitechapel I was surrounded by crowds of cockneys every time I made my appearance. One afternoon one of them pushed her way through a crowd of four or five hundred to get a good look at me. 'My word,' she said, 'it's a real man'. After gazing at me for several seconds she added: 'Mr. Bunny, how's your homely wife?'"

Bunny lives in Brooklyn. He used to be on the musical comedy stage, but he says he likes playing with the "movies" much better. —Louisville Times.

Use a Brush.
A paint brush is an excellent thing to remove dust from cracks and carved furniture. It reaches crevices where a dust rag never could find the dust. Try this when next you clean the baseboards, window sashes, etc. You will never be without a brush.

VERIFY IT

The Proof Is In Lancaster Almost at your Door.

The public statement of a Lancaster citizen is in itself strong proof for Lancaster people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Lancaster citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved weak kidneys and now states the result was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney pills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

George Wright, carpenter, Stanford St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "I willingly confirm all that I said in 1908 praising Doan's Kidney Pills. They do all that is claimed for them. I suffered a great deal from my kidneys and back. Pains through my loins extended to the sides and over the kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and my kidneys became normal and the pains stopped."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PRELUDES

Born, to the wife of Mr. Pruitt Thompson, a fine girl.

Mrs. H. T. Cummings, who has been sick is better at this writing.

Barbara S. Thompson bought 100 lbs. of sugar from Mr. Rogers, of Lancaster, at 10c.

Rev. J. E. Roberts, pastor of the Methodist church, preached Sunday and Sunday night.

Vernie Parks, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fado Parks, who was ill of pneumonia, is better.

Miss Nancy Carpenter, of Crab Orchard, visited her sister, Mrs. W. C. Blankenship last Sunday.

Mrs. P. E. Parrish and daughter, Miss Katherine Nelvin, were guests of Mrs. J. M. Cress last week.

Mr. William Barnes, of Gilberts Creek, conducted religious services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bell Saturday night.

Mr. Ira Bell and sister, Miss Mary Bell, of near Paint Lick, were visiting the family of their uncle, Mr. Levi Bell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. White and handsome children, of Crab Orchard, were visiting his brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. White, the first of the week.

The B. Y. P. U. had a most interesting meeting at the Baptist church Sunday evening. A good sized crowd was present and interest is increasing.

Gus Bartles, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Aug Bartles, at Griffin Station, is very low, having suffered a relapse from typhoid fever. He is not expected to live.

Strange things do occur in this locality and at the risk of our reputation for veracity, we must write them. Our neighbor's wife Mrs. Levi Bell, now knows that she has one friend who is very presuming. One day in early November the good lady went to Stanford and wore a fine new dress of which she was quite proud. On returning home, Mrs. Bell had her little daughter to brush and put away the dress in a dresser drawer. A day or so after, Mrs. Bell desired to wear this dress to spend the afternoon with a neighbor. On seeing the dress was gone, the dresser drawer being empty, the good lady instituted a thorough search from cellar to garret, but not a trace of the lost article could be found. Mrs. Bell was at a loss as how it came about. Last week, early in the morning, the dress was found in the buggy where it had been thrown, by some one the night previous. It showed signs of being worn and had been pinned in a manner which indicated that the wearer a woman much smaller than Mrs. Bell. This lady seems to almost believe its work of ghost.

Worth Remembering.

Try to put well in practice what you already know; in so doing you will, in good time, discover the hidden things which you now inquire about.—Rembrandt.

A Gentle Reminder.

Smith is a young New York lawyer clever in many ways, but very forgetful. He was recently sent to St. Louis to interview an important client in regard to a case then pending in the Missouri courts. Later the head of his firm received this telegram from St. Louis:

"Have forgotten name of client. Please wire at once."

This was the reply sent from New York:

"Client's name Jenkins. Your name Smith."—Everybody's.

Wholesale Renunciation.

There was a bevy of girls on the hotel veranda.

Algernon tells me he stopped smoking to please me," said one.

"He tells me he stopped on my account," declared another.

"He gave me to understand that I was the cause," asserted a third.

Silence for five minutes.

"Never mind, girls," spoke up a mere man. "If I could please a regiment of girls, I'd stop, too."

Indigestion

causes heartburn, sour stomach, nervousness, nausea, impure blood, and more trouble than many different kinds of diseases. The food you eat ferments in your stomach, and the poisons it forms are absorbed into your whole system, causing many distressing symptoms. At the first sign of indigestion, try the old, reliable, vegetable liver powder, to quickly cleanse your system from these undesirable poisons.

Thedford's Black-Draught

Mrs. Riley Laramore, of Goodwater, Mo., says: "I suffered for years from dyspepsia and heartburn. Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, cured my heartburn in a few days, and now I can eat without distress." Try it.

THE "VOTES FOR WOMEN" PARADE IN WASHINGTON ON MARCH 3.

On March 3 at 3 p. m. the signal will be given for the Washington votes for women parade to begin its march from the plaza in front of the Peace monument, along Pennsylvania avenue, past the treasury building and White House to Continental hall, where a mass meeting will be held. The procession, organized by the National American Woman Suffrage association, is in charge of a committee of four, Miss Alice Paul, chairman, Miss Lucy Burns, Miss Emma Gillett and Mrs. Glenna Smith Tinnin. The first two represent the national association, while Mrs. Tinnin and Miss Gillett represent the suffrage organizations of the District of Columbia.

Some of the important facts about this procession, which all suffragists say is going to be even more interesting than the big New York parades have been, are as follows:

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the national association, will lead the parade. She will walk every step of the way (even if there is a blizzard) and then make a speech at the Continental hall meeting.

Women from every state in the Union will be in line. Many are going in special trains. A private car filled with suffragists will arrive from Toronto. From Baltimore will come a string of golden chariots drawn by milk white steeds and driven by suffragists dressed in Roman costumes. The forty miles from Baltimore to Washington is to be covered in one day, and a squad of petticoat cavalry is to ride as a guard of honor. The Baltimore chariots were first used in the suffrage parade held at the time of the Democratic convention last June. Each chariot represents an equal suffrage state.

Dawn Mist, daughter of Chief Three Bears, will ride side by side with beautiful society women in the cavalry brigade at the head of the procession. The Indian delegation will bring their tepees and will camp out within the District of Columbia. Chief of Police Sylvester will furnish police protection. The Indian women will appear in the parade in their buckskin beaded dress. The New York to Washington bikers will form a pilgrims' group in the parade. They will wear their hooded cloaks and carry pilgrims' staffs.

A delegation of senators and representatives from the nine states where women can vote, will have a prominent place in line.

A group of Quakers, men and women, will wear their beautiful Friends' garb.

A large number of men, among them James Lees Laidlaw of New York, president of the National Men's League For Woman Suffrage, will be in line. The ceremonies at the treasury steps and plaza to be given in connection with the procession will take the form of an allegory, accompanied by music and dancing and ending with tableaux.

The note of the trumpet which announces the start of the procession will be taken up at intervals along the line of march until it reaches the treasury building. As the band begins "The Star Spangled Banner" there will march from the shadowed depths of the great columns fronting the treasury building the commanding figure of Columbia (Mme. Nordlie). As she appears American flags will be unfurled on the great platforms which flank the steps. Columbia will slowly descend to the plaza below. Again the trumpets will sound, and Columbia, turning toward the massive portico, will summon to her presence the first of her followers, Justice.

Justice and her attendants will wear robes of violet, lightened by faintest touch of blue. To the strains of the "Pilgrims' Chorus" they will formally descend and make their obeisance to Columbia. Columbia will then summon Charity (Miss Flora Wilson) whose coming will be announced by Handel's "Largo." Two little children will strew her path with roses. Following Charity closely will be a group of youths and maidens in delicate gowns and blouses. Then to the crashing of cymbals and brass in the "Triumphal March" from "Aida" a flying figure in glowing crimson will appear—Liberty (Miss Florence Fleming Noyes). Poling for an instant on the steps, she will run swiftly to the plaza, beckoning to her attendants to follow her. With their floating scarfs of crimson, rose and gold these maidens will wave a glorious dance of joy and freedom around Liberty.

This last tumultuous entrance will be followed by a moment's silence, to be broken by the clear note of a horn. Then will come a serene and beautiful figure dressed in white and silver and bearing in her hands her emblem, the dove of peace. Halting at the head of the steps, Peace will release the dove and watch its flight as it mounts to the heavens. Then she will descend to the strains of softest music, surrounded by her attendants, fair girls in white. This time it is Columbia who will make obeisance and with reverent gesture welcome the longed for follower to her place.

Then Hope, bearing the promise of the future, will peer shyly from behind the columns, her gauzy veil falling between her and the world. At last she will boldly leave her hiding place and spring lightly down the steps, followed by a group of laughing girls wearing softest greens and rain-bow colors. Together they will dance and elude each other and swing and sway until they are joined by a radiant group of children, who will toss their iridescent balls until they, too

Join the others in the final tableau to greet the great procession.

A herald dressed in yellow (Miss Bill Holland), carrying a trumpet and a purple banner, will head the procession. Then will come the woman's band, a standard bearer, a mounted brigade led by the grand marshal, Mrs. R.C. Burleson, and the fifty ushers for the Continental hall meeting dressed in blue and gold.

The first division of the parade will show that the demand for equal suffrage is worldwide. The foreign countries which have already given votes to their women will be represented by floats, each one followed by a contingent of marchers wearing the costume of their country. There will be women from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Australia.

The next division will show by a series of four floats the progress of the suffrage movement in the United States from 1818 to 1912. The color scheme of this division will be purple, white and gold.

The third division will show by a series of floats, followed by marching delegations, that men and women cooperate in all activities except one—government—and logically the next step in advance will be that of working together to solve the problems of state. These floats will be followed by homemakers, nurses, lawyers, doctors, college women, wage earners, teachers, writers, artists and musicians.

In the fourth division will be the state delegations, the climax being the big state car celebrating the triumph of nine states having equal suffrage.

At the mass meeting to be held at Memorial Continental hall, the home of the Daughters of the American Revolution, addresses will be made by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Suffrage alliance, and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association. Mrs. William Kent wife of Representative Kent of California, is in charge of this meeting.

Washington, used to hearing politics discussed, but unused to any real political demonstration, at first showed indifference to the parade, then ridicule and finally respectful attention. The change in sentiment has been brought about largely by the character of the women organizing the demonstration, for the work is being done by the wives and daughters of senators, congressmen, government officials and army and navy officers.

Mrs. Harvey Wiley, wife of the pure food expert, who is chairman of the hospitality committee, has taken up the work of finding accommodation for visiting suffragists and has promised that all will be cared for. She has adopted the unique idea of renting entire houses for inauguration week and will turn them into women's dormitories.

THE OUTLOOK FOR VOTES FOR WOMEN

1913 Promises to Be Year of Plenty For Suffragists.

MANY STATES FALL IN LINE

Twenty of them are considered possibilities for 1914. Eight for 1915 and seven for 1916—Vermont cannot act until 1920.

January was an unusually successful month for the suffragists, and February promises to be even more interesting. An equal suffrage amendment has passed both houses of the New York legislature. It must be agreed to by the legislature elected in 1914 and can be submitted to the voters in November, 1915. An equal suffrage amendment has passed both houses of the Montana legislature. The constitution of Montana does not require that an amendment be agreed to by two legislatures, so the question will be submitted to the voters in November, 1914. An equal suffrage amendment has passed the general assembly of Nevada. It will be referred to the voters in November, 1914, or at a special election in October, 1915. An equal suffrage amendment has passed the South Dakota legislature. The constitution of

GROWTH OF THE SUFFRAGE FIGHT

It is the Oldest Thing in the World—Evolution.

A LOGICAL PHENOMENON.

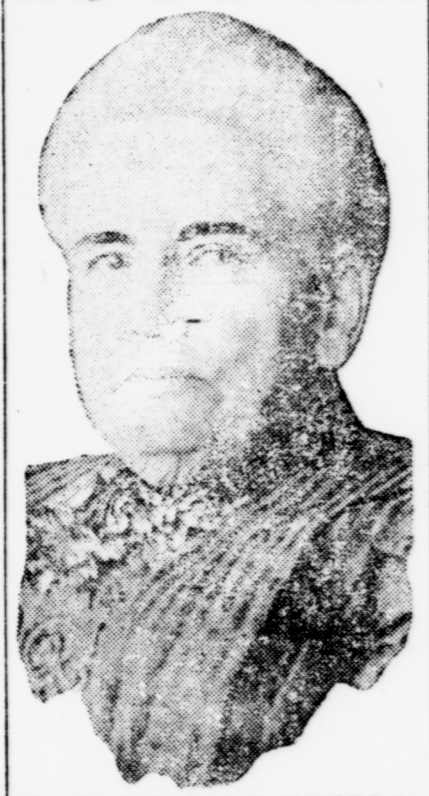

The Present Worldwide Unrest Did Not Come in a Night and Is Here to Stay, Says Noted Author—A Many Sided Question.

By MARY JOHNSTON.

What is at the root of the worldwide unrest among women? What is at the root of the woman movement? The oldest thing in the world is at the root of the woman movement—evolution, the divine yearning upward and onward and upward. Stop it? Still it? Stop the ocean with your hand; stop the wind with a straw; stay the great mind of the world with your plaintive "Day before yesterday was just the right weather?"

It did not come up in a night, the woman movement, and it is no danger of perishing from view. It is here to stay and to grow. It is not the work of a few families and faddists. It is a perfectly logical phenomenon born out of the fullness of time and the larger mind of the world, evidencing itself in all the countries of the world and under the most diverse circumstances, participated in by individuals of every social stratum, by the rich and the poor, the learned and the unlearned, the young and the old. It is indestructible, it is moving on with an ever increasing depth and velocity, and it is going to revolutionize the world. It has many sides—educational, economic, industrial, eugenic, political. In a thousand speeches we could only slightly touch the iridescent, many angled woman movement. Today we are to speak, and that most briefly, only to its political aspect in our own country. Then what are we asking here in America?

We are asking that a democracy be a democracy. We are asking that the government of this country be a government of the whole people, for the whole people and by the whole people, and not a government of, for and by half the people. We are asking that we who live under the laws of a state, laws which we must obey and which affect our relation to life, may have something to do with the making of those laws. We are asking that we who pay a very considerable portion of the taxes of the state and of the country may have a voice in the ap-

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW, PRESIDENT NATIONAL AMERICAN WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.

South Dakota does not require that an amendment be agreed to by two legislatures. Therefore it will be submitted to the voters in November, 1914.

Governor Odell of Nevada in his message to the legislature called attention to the isolated position of his state, entirely surrounded by states which had enfranchised their women, and said, "The sentiment in favor here seems to be overwhelming."

Governor Stewart of Montana strongly urged the amendment in his inaugural message and the same day received the delegates to the suffrage convention which was in session at Helena. Ten members of the house offered to introduce the bill, and the day it was voted on Miss Rankin state leader and field organizer for the National Suffrage association, was invited to a seat with that body.

A suffrage bill has passed the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature by a vote of nearly two to one. Suffrage amendments have been introduced in Michigan (where many claim that the loss of the amendment last November was due to election frauds), Iowa, Minnesota, Texas, New Jersey, North Dakota, Delaware, Missouri, Nebraska, Maine, Arkansas, Connecticut and North Carolina. The legislature of Alaska, which meets on March 1, will consider an equal suffrage amendment.

Alaska, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, Nebraska and Nevada are possible campaign states for 1913. If the Maine amendment goes through the present legislature it will be submitted to the voters in September. The chance for New Hampshire women lies in the fact that the constitutional convention of 1912 will probably reconvene this summer. If the Michigan legislature passes the suffrage amendment (as there seems little doubt it will do the voters will have an opportunity to ratify it in April. There seems to be a strong sentiment in favor of a special election in Nevada next fall. The principal objection to a special election is the expense that is incident thereto. Nebraska suffragists are waiting for a construction of the initiative petition law recently passed in their state before they can decide upon a program.

Suffrage possibilities for 1914 are Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Wisconsin, North Dakota, and for 1915 Delaware, Kentucky, Mississippi, New Mexico, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia. This will leave for 1916 only Alabama, Connecticut, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, North Carolina and West Virginia. In Vermont the constitution can be amended only at a constitutional convention, and the next convention cannot be until 1920.

"WHY WE HIKE."

Colonel Craft Gives Good Reasons For Suffragists' Activity.

By "COLONEL" IDA CRAFT.

"Why do we hike? To reach the immense number of people in towns, villages and scattered through the country who never attend suffrage meetings and would not know any thing about votes for women if we did not come along to press suffrage leaflets into their hands and to make three or four speeches by the roadside. Why do we not take either railroad or trolley? Because such rapid trans-

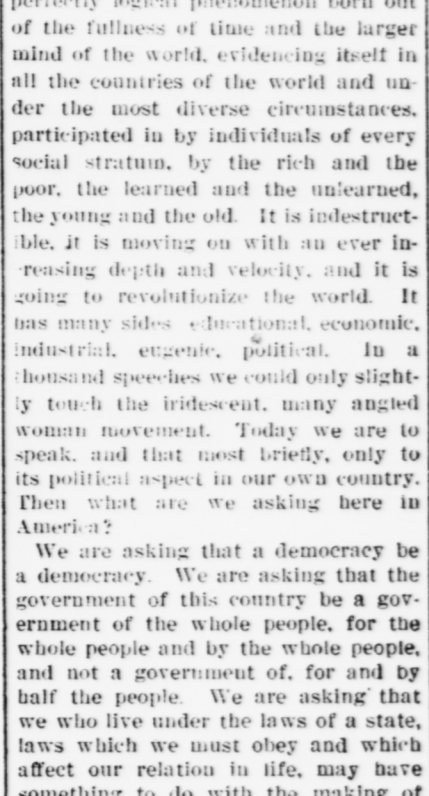

"ON TO WASHINGTON!"

it would not allow us to reach the man on the wagon, the traveler walking along the road, the millionaire in an automobile. All these, seeing us stop to receive a leaflet or to talk.

"How do we reach thousands of people in addition to those we meet on our pilgrimage? By the message through the press. We are willing to be written up for the sake of the great principle for which we are walking—votes for women.

"Lincoln's birthday was selected for the beginning of the New York to Washington suffrage pilgrimage because Lincoln stood for democracy, government by all the people, not excluding women. The culminating point of the pilgrimage will be the presentation to Woodrow Wilson of a message from the National American Woman Suffrage association urging him as president of the United States to follow the teachings of the great emancipator and work for a true democracy."

MISS MARY JOHNSTON.

portion of those taxes. We are asking that we who work may have a say as to the conditions under which we work—conditions which even now are largely under political control and which every year that we live come more and more fully under that control. We are asking for the full responsibilities, duties and dignity of citizenship. We are asking for justice, for fair play, for a square deal. We are asking to be enfranchised.

In a democracy the ballot is the symbol of human freedom and human responsibility. The ballot spells political liberty, and political liberty corresponds to a need of both halves of humanity. That gateway, political liberty, lies on our line of march as it lay on yours. Our line of march does not end there. It goes on and on and on. But in order now to go on we must go through that gateway. A million cosmic forces have brought us full before it, and a million cosmic forces are going to draw us through it. What we ask of you today is that in your several states and in your several ways you do not obstruct those forces, but aid them. We ask that you range your personal weight and influence on the side of eternal justice, on the side of the evolutionary process. We ask that you give your help to the women of this country in their struggle for political independence.—From Address Made by Mary Johnston to House of Governors Under Auspices of National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—if you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

Jenkins.

The entire community was greatly shocked and grieved Saturday evening,
Feb. 22nd, about 7:30 when they heard of the sudden death of Mr. Colby M.
Jenkins, one of the most popular and best liked men that ever resided in Garrard Co. Mr. Jenkins was apparently in splendid health and had eaten a very hearty supper and had just gone from the dining room into the sitting room, where he was preparing to study his Sunday school lesson, when he was stricken with apoplexy and fell to the floor, medical assistance was summoned but he lived only a few minutes. He was in his 68th year.

Colby M. Jenkins was born in Jackson Co. Missouri, May 22nd, 1845 and came to Kentucky early in childhood,
located in Garrard Co., near Bryant-sville, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was married Dec. 9th, 1869 to Miss Anna M. Smith, daughter of Mr. David Smith of Bryantville.
Mrs. Jenkins died in 1891. Mr. Jenkins was a member of the Baptist church,
uniting with the church at the age of 30 and for 38 years has been one of the most faithful, loyal and devoted members of the Fork Church. He had taught a Sunday school class for a number of years and was also a deacon, always taking a very active part in church affairs.

Mr. Jenkins lived at a historic old place near Bryantville known as the "Burnt Tavern", where he owned a large and fertile farm, and engaged extensively in farming and stock trading and also was one of the best known and most extensive stock buyers and traders in the county. He also engaged in the buying of tobacco to a considerable extent, and through this means was widely known throughout the state. He was a man of considerable influence in his immediate community and one of the most highly respected and progressive citizens of the county.

He is survived by four sons and three daughters, Misses Anna Kay and Margaret Jenkins, of Bryantville, and Mrs. Thompson Arnold, of Lancaster, Messrs Colby T. Jenkins of Georgetown, David and Willi m Jenkins of Bryantville, and Leslie Jenkins of Indianapolis, and by four sisters and one brother, namely Mrs. Lucy Blair,
of Bryantville, Mrs. M. L. Hendren, of Bradfordsville, Mrs. Wilburn Peters of Harrodsburg, Mrs. Logan Mills of Independence Kansas and Mr. J. L.
Jenkins of Kingman Kansas.

The funeral services were held at the residence Monday afternoon at three o'clock and were conducted by his pastor Rev. Mahan, assisted by Rev. Humphreys, of Bardstown. The remains were placed in the family vault at the Fork Church. The large number of friends and relatives present at the funeral and the beautiful floral offerings attested the popularity of the deceased. Mr. Jenkins was well known, enjoyed as wide acquaintance, perhaps as any one in the county and to know him was to count him
your friend, a more kindly hearted man never existed and his lovable and benevolent disposition had endeared
him to all, he will be missed by all classes for he was a friend to the poor as well as to the more fortunate. He was a splendid citizen and a Christian gentleman always taking an active part in every thing that would promote the welfare of his church or community. Mr. Jenkins was a most devoted and indulgent father, and while he will be greatly missed by his church
and his friends, it is his family that will miss him most. There has never occurred a death in this part of the county that was the occasion of more regret, all classes join in the deepest condolence to the bereaved family.

Confederate Pensions Questioned.

Auditor Henry M. Bosworth has asked Attorney General Bosworth for an opinion as to the constitutionality of the bill enacted by the recent legislature granting pensions to survivors of the "Lost Cause" and their widows.
The bill if found constitutional would involve the expenditure of about $400,
000 annually. Auditor Bosworth's bondsmen raised the question, and he was compelled, no matter how unwilling he may have been, to make an investigation. The question would probably never have been raised but for the depleted condition of the state treasury.
The final outcome of the matter will probably be a test case before the Kentucky court of appeals. Meantime
there is no money to pay the pensions
already allowed, however willing Auditor Bosworth might be to issue vouchers.

Baptist Minister Leaves For New Field Of Labor.

Rev. O. P. Buch preached his farewell sermon to the Baptist congregation Sunday evening. The church was filled, not only by those of his household
of faith, but all the other churches who,
with one accord, express regret that he is called away and wish him the greatest success in his new field of labor at Columbia, Ky. Under his christian guidance and example, his church has prospered spiritually, financially and numerically, and he has spared no pains to meet all the requirements of a christian gentleman and while we most sincerely regret that he is about to sever his relations with us, we believe that his success here is but an indication to him of what the future will yield as fruit from his toil.

The Record but voices the sentiments of the community in hoping that he and his estimable wife will be blessed with good health and strength to toil for the Master many years to come.

Attention to Colts' Feet.

Don't forget to give the colts' feet attention. Now is when the set of limbs is determined. There is always a reason for a poor set of limbs. It may be hereditary, but it is generally carelessness on the part of the owner
who did not keep his feet trimmed down level with the frog. A colt's feet are continually breaking off and splitting if they are not attended to promptly.—Horse Journal.

Treating Nail Wounds.

One who has tried it says that the most successful treatment that he has found for nail wounds in horses' feet
is to clean the wound and pour full of hot tallow or lard. This seems to give very little pain, and one treatment generally cures.

COST OF BUILDING CREAMERY

One Must First Figure on Expense and Then on Equipment—Pays
to Build Well.

By G. A. GILBERT, Colorado Agricultural College.)

Creamery builders must figure the cost, first, of the building, second, of the equipment. A suitable and convenient building will contain a main
work room, store room, refrigerator, engine and boiler room, coal room and an office. Such a medium sized creamery would measure 28x48 feet. In some sections labor and material are much cheaper than in others and the cost varies accordingly. However, we can place the limit of cost of such a construction between one thousand and fifteen hundred dollars.

Where only gathered cream is received the equipment required is less than where whole milk is received. In the first instance, of the gathered cream plant, the following would be necessary: 15 H. P. boiler; 10 H. P.
engine; a well and pump; weigh can
and scales; Babcock testing equipment complete; combiner churn, capacity 600 lbs. butter; buttermilk vat;
cream ripener; starter can; wash sink.
Besides this there will be shafting,
pulleys, piping, belting, etc. By making two churnings a day in the rush season, 1,200 pounds of butter could be manufactured per day in a plant of this size. The cost of equipment would approximately be $1,200.

The total cost of a creamery without artificial refrigeration will vary from $2,200 to $3,000. In the long run it pays to build well and to use first class equipment in a creamery, and this is the basis of the foregoing figures. In many cases on record creameries started by promoters of representatives of construction companies have cost exorbitant prices and out of all proportion to the business they are able to do.

NECESSARY FOR TOOL SHOP

One Essential is Water and in Receptacle Large Enough for All Needs—Tub is Best.

Wherever the farmer has his own
blacksmith shop, it is almost necessary to have water handy, and have it in a vessel large enough for the needs of the shop. The half barrel makes a very good vessel for this purpose.
The half of a common coal oil barrel will make a very good tub. The notches, shown in the illustration,
form good supports for the wagon

Water Tub for Shop.

wheels when cooling the set tires.
The notches will also be found handy
for other purposes about the tub, such as keeping tools, lard, etc., from slipping to the bottom of the tub when set upright to cool.

When Solfs Cease to Produce.
The trouble with soils when they cease to produce as they did when new is not that the elements of plant food are actually exhausted from the soil, but the necessary forces for the liberation are exhausted. One of these forces is bacteria. It is estimated that in the common soil there are 150,000,000 bacteria to the ounce.
These bacteria must have for their food, humus, then they will liberate food for the growth of plants. To be a good farmer one needs to grow legumes and other cover crop plants
to turn under for humus, and to encourage these beneficial bacteria to perform their functions in the soil.

Fattening Market Poultry.
To fatten poultry for market, remove them from the yards and place,
without overcrowding, in a coop which should be provided with a canvas cover to draw down and keep the inmates in darkness. Do not feed for about six hours after placing in the coop, and then feed all they will eat.
Feed three times a day, and keep fresh water and a basin of grain al-

USE WHEELBARROW SEEDER

Implement is Hitched to Harrow by Means of Rope Attached to Pipe
—Saves One Operation.

This makes a handy way to use a wheelbarrow seeder behind a harrow.
I used a four-section harrow with it and lapped what the seeder didn't cover each time. I harrowed around the field to avoid turning short around, writes O. S. Newberry of Meade, Kan., in the Farmers' Mail and Breeze. I simply tied a chain behind the harrow as far as the seeder went, then followed this mark next time so as to cover all the ground with the seeder. A piece of pipe is wired to the levers on the harrow and Seeder Runs Behind.

the seeder handles loosely rest on this pipe, but a stick is placed over them and wired to the pipe so as not to allow too much free play. The seeder is hitched to the harrow by means of a rope attached to the pipe
from the center of the seeder to allow it to follow the harrow in turning.

DAIRY COWS ON SMALL FARM

Where No Considerable Amount of Live Stock is Kept Animals Are
of Much Importance.

Dairying should be a justifiable factor in the operations of every quarter section farm from the standpoint of balancing the farm work.
On small farms where no considerable amount of live stock can be kept for growth or for sale fat, the dairy herd can not be dispensed with unless the farmer is so well fixed
that he does not need a winter business which has the ability to convert his time and labor into cash.

The dairy herd has an important place to fill in the prosperity of every quarter section farm and we are very sure that our statement applies to all general farms under this size.

Gain on Meat Rations.

The New York experiment station
found that cockerels fed meat gained 56 1/2 per cent. more weight, and such pullets laid eight weeks earlier than those without meat, but otherwise on a similar diet.

Meat-fed ducks were out of sight of those deprived of it. Again the experiment was tried with a more careful attention to a supply of mineral matter for those without meat, and it was found vegetable protein could largely take the place of meat in case
of chickens, but not with ducks.

Desirable Seed Ears.

The best ears of corn have the butts
well rounded out with well-shaped kernels. Ears having straight rows of kernels and a medium size shank are desirable. The cob should be of medium size and of a deep color. The kernels should be deep and firm on the cob, medium wedge shaped, have a deep color, and contain large, bright germs.

Good Dairy Farmer.

A good dairy farmer has been described as "a good general farmer plus the love of cows." This is a good definition, because the man who does not have a fondness for cattle, and who does not find some satisfaction
in caring for them seldom turns out to be a very capable and prosperous dairy farmer.

Slobber in Horses.

Cabbage will sometimes cure slob-
ber in horses, caused by eating white clover; but it is better to keep the clover away from the horses.

Strange.

"It's strange, isn't it?"
"What is?"
"That nobody ever discovers an Italian singer who wasn't a common laborer a few years ago."

More Provincialism.

"What," asked the Chicago man,
"did you think of the Panama canal?"
"It's quite a ditch," replied the New York man, "but it'll never be half
as interesting as our subway."

NINA.

Rev. Baird filled his appointment at Freedom last Sunday.

There has some cattle died and others
sick, the disease unknown.

Uncle Sires Creech has been the victim of lagrip for several days.

Aunt Barbry Creech is sick all so but we are glad to know that she is better.

Mr. W. T. Watson has been sick for MARKSBURY.

Mr. Tom Chesnut bought a pair of work mules at Danville for $390.

Mrs. Edmond Sutton who has been suffering from rheumatism slightly improved.

Mrs. Sallie Fox was hostess at dinner
Sunday to a few friends in honor of her anniversary.

Mr. W. I. Marksberry and wife of Lexington were visiting relatives here
Friday and Saturday.

Mr. D. P. Burdette remains in a critical condition at his home. A nurse has been procured for him.

Mesdames Rod Swope and Chas.
Becker went to Nicholasville to visit their sister Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. John Pruitt has returned from Lexington where he has been in the interest of some tobacco which he recently carried there.

Messrs Tom and Virgil Chesnut have grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G.

Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ashley, and infant daughter, of Richmond, have been the guests of his mother at the home of Mrs. Hampton on Logan Ave.

Mr. J. D. Eads sold his good farm near here last week but we are glad to say this doant mean that he and his most excellent family are leaving Stanford.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs.
Jay Hoenstein who have come from Muscoogee, Okla to make their home in Stanford. Mrs Hoenstein was before her marriage, Miss Roberta O'Bannon.

The fiscal court was in session yesterday to consider the purchase of road machinery. There was a decisive vote in favor of advertising for bids on the machinery and it seems to be the general impression that it will be bought at an early date.

One of the most delightful social events of the season was the dinner given by Mrs. Hugh Reid and Mrs.
John Owsley, at their country home on last Thursday. The honor guest was Mrs. Robert T. Bruce. The other guests were: Mesdames T. A. Rice, G.
B. Cooper, T. W. Pennington, J. B.

At first the tendency of the manufacturers seemed to be toward large and expensive cars and the needs of the poor man or the man of moderate means was overlooked.
American ingenuity and common sense supplied this need in "The Ford."

The Ford is not only an inexpensive car to buy but because of its strength and enduring qualities it is also inexpensive to maintain.
